Attention to service and detail

If you ask Greg Testerman, owner of New River Custom Builders, what he can build, he will tell you emphatically, “If you can dream it, think it, or sketch it, then we can build it.” If you think he’s kidding, you’ve got another thing coming because New River Custom Builder’s work is prominently displayed in all the major subdivisions throughout the High Country including: Allegheny, Ashe, Avery, Watauga, and Wilkes counties. So why is New River Custom Builders so good at what they do? Greg points to these four important factors: “Experience, Attention to Detail, Teamwork, and Customer Satisfaction make us good at what we do.”

Great room is truly a great room with both looks and size. The ceiling is tall, standing at 18 feet. Custom made chandeliers and Virginia field stone enhance the overall aesthetics.

Experience

New River Custom Builders have been serving the High Country for over 10 years. During that period, they have faced almost every situation a builder can encounter. These situations have allowed them to season their talents and sharpen their skills. Greg himself has over twenty years on-site experience in the industry incorporating past accomplishments with new challenges. His unique approach, consisting of conventional and unconventional methods, incorporates both old and new techniques. Thus achieving a one of a kind unique product that pleases the client and confounds the competition. New River Custom Builders puts the ‘Custom’ in Custom-built.

Attention to Detail

They are a true full service builder, handling every detail of the process from foundation to finish. As testament to their willingness to go the extra mile for their clients, even the most minute details are cared for. New River Custom Builders will even furnish homes for their customers including custom built pieces like: quality tables, benches, bunk beds, and more. They will also help move clients into their new home, help hang the pictures, and even place flower arrangements for a “lived-in” look.

Teamwork

Greg and his crew are a tight knit group of twelve local “Ashe County boys” who have been working together for a long time. “To me, a step better begins by surrounding yourself with good help. These are the people I count on to get the job done and, most importantly, they understand the quality of workmanship I present and expect,” says Greg. As a team they can handle any job, no matter the size. Greg and his crew don’t sub-contract, allowing them to have total control of quality.

Customer Satisfaction

The single greatest concern for New River Custom Builders on any job is Customer Satisfaction. Greg and his team place a great deal of importance on the clients' happiness. Greg will tell you that paying attention to what the customer wants directly leads to building long standing relationships with his clients.

Sterling examples of these factors are on display in a gorgeous five bedroom, five bath home in Todd. New River Custom Builders lives up to their name, customizing this home to exactly what the owners envisioned right down to the foundation. Not necessarily an easy task when you consider the footers start thirty feet below ground level, and the staircase was made using massive pieces of timber from British Columbia. This particular house was built for a family with small children, so extra safety precautions for the massive stairwell became a concern. New River Custom Builders devised an automatic door that closes behind the children to ensure they do not fall down the stairwell. Virginia fieldstone was hauled in for the gigantic pillars for the entranceway of the house, as well as the fireplace. A custom garage attached to the left of the house is spectacularly finished with hand made wooden roll-up doors. The deck, which is perfect for a beautiful spring cookout, was built out of Brazilian red wood, cedar posts, and clear powder coated railing. As a final touch all the remnant wood was used to construct custom-built patio furniture.

True believers in the phrase, “No Job too Big or too Small,” New River Custom Builders will complete work on your existing home with the same precision and quality they bring to new home sites.
